This school year is like a rivulet. The water always keeps flowing. It goes over rough spots, rocks, and deep pools, but keeps on moving, no matter what. Water continues to flow along in its journey to the sea.

At school, we drift with the events that occur. We have survived the rapids of exams that we thought were the end of us, the Wizard of Oz and other plays, dances, class pictures, discussions, disagreements, sports, stubborn lockers, fire in the boiler room, and good and bad days. No matter how enormous or insignificant each day is, we continue to drift thru life.

Along with everyday happenings, we have survived crises of our nation and other countries around the world. We have flowed around the rocks of Water-gate, the rapids of the Middle East Crisis, the jams of the Energy Shortage, the deep pools of the Agnew case, threatened impeachment of the President, and the whirlpools of the controversies between the countries of the world. We flow along through life, around all these trouble spots and still survive to flow along in the mainstream of life.

Mr. Yankee — Vice Principal

Mrs. Fuller — Assistant Secretary

Mrs. Mahoney — Secretary of Superintendent

Mr. Zellmer — Administrative Assistant

Mr. Welner — Guidance Counselor

The administration at Pioneer includes: Mr. William Decker, Principal; Mr. Glenn Yankee, Vice Principal and Director of Career Ed; Mr. Alan Rogers, Director of Guidance; and Mr. Charles Welner, Guidance Counselor, and their secretaries. These people keep Pioneer moving by keeping communications open between faculty, students, and themselves and building good public relations. Their work keeps Pioneer running smoothly. We may not always be aware of the amount of work involved in running Pioneer but the administration is always busy preparing for future year's programs.

Mrs. Weiss: Guidance Secretary

Mr. Rogers: Guidance Director

Mr. Harrington: Superintendent of Schools

Mrs. Page: Secretary of Superintendent

Mr. Decker: Principal

MEET OUR FACULTY

The Pioneer faculty help us in many phases of our education and growth. They are involved as class advisors and they also support athletic events, clubs, and organizations. It takes much time too, to keep the library open. Listening to students and getting involved in their interests and problems lead to the development of Occupational Education, the 7th grade English-Social Studies Program, and the Nature Trail. We all know basically why the faculty is here, although often we don't probably see beyond the classroom. They can be inspiring and interesting individuals. At our fingertips, we have world travelers with a variety of unique interests. We must remember to learn from these experiences as well as the classroom.

*To my silly one

7th GRADE ... These Energetic People are going to be a great asset to Pioneer as they get organized in a hurry. You know how hectic it is in seventh grade. being in such a big class, and not knowing half of your classmates! With each year there are new experiences to learn more people to really talk to while becoming part of a class. The chose six officers to lead them this year. Student Council members are Susan Goller and Terry Bachinski. Class officers include Debby Lawson President; Harold Metcalf, Vice-President; Perry Messer, Treasurer and Shelly Damon, Secretary. They will learn a lot of things this year as they begin their life here at Pioneer. GOOD LUCK CLASS of '79.

8th Grade ... This Year's Class Is Getting It Together. Just watch 'em! Their class officers are: Nancy Billings, President; Billy Deane, Vice President; Sherry Dean, Treasurer; and Susan James, Secretary. Their first project was Homecoming. They built a float with the theme, "Maine Course." The float was decorated in the York Maine football colors with Pioneer's football players eating at a picnic table. Of course they were eating the "Maine Course." This float took time, energy, imagination and spirit, which were all obvious in the finished product. Plans in progress include food sales, a Fun Night, and a trip to Riverside Park.

"The Spirit of 76" is making the most of their years at Pioneer. In class elections they chose Jody Morgan, President; Marie Walker, Vice-President; Karen Hilliker, Secretary; with Dale Hastings reinstated as Treasurer. Their Homecoming queen candidate was Lynn Bassett, and hard work and fun gave their entry in the float competition 3rd place. Much time has been spent on money making projects. Keep the Spirit '76!

Mary-Jean,
I really think you will go a lot of places for you know how to make a person happy and laugh.
It's gonna be really strange not being here next year with all you guys. But you keep all the kids smiling okay. And keep the crowd spirit up. And take care. Much love,

→ The word for me is Joy,
Simple Joy.

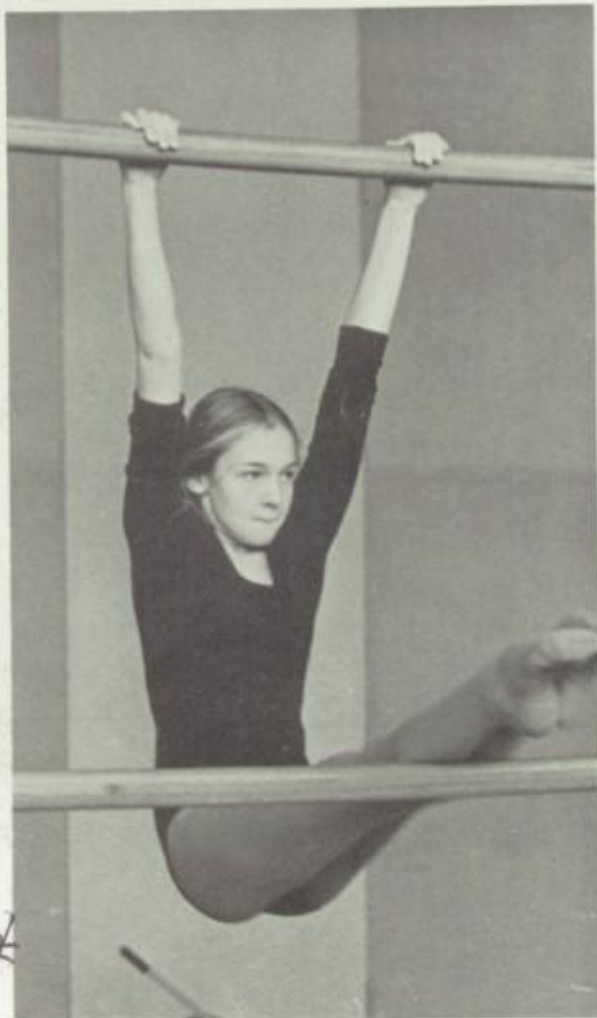

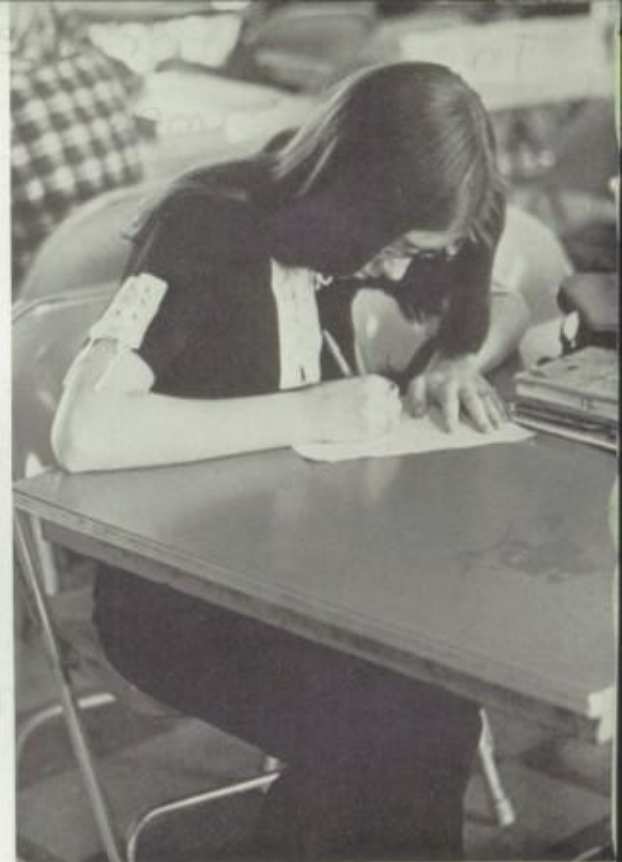

This year, Pioneer added a new program to its curriculum — occupational education. This was its first year in the curriculum. Child Development and Care, Building Structures, Building Grounds and Maintenance, and Technical Mathematics are the courses designed to teach new job skills and to develop positive attitudes toward work. Mr. Yankee is the program director. Courses met during a segment of the school day.

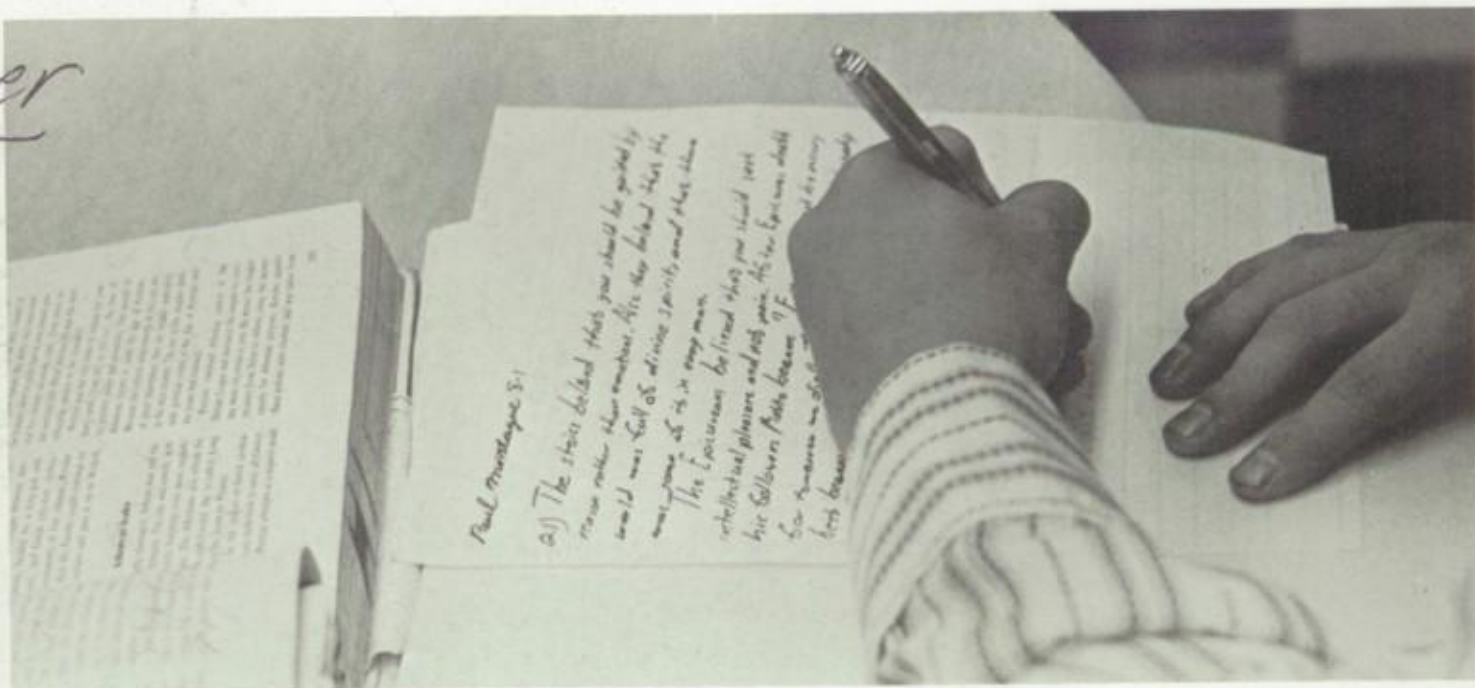

Mrs. Kathleen LaChance directs Child Development and Care. Junior and senior girls and boys were eligible to work with small children in a nursery laboratory school at the Trinitarian Church in Northfield. The students learned responsible care of young children.

Instructor of the Building Structures Course is Mr. Wallace. Their major project was to build a two-car garage, 24' by 24' at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Abbot, Northfield. The class built everything from the foundation to the roof! Other courses included Technical Mathematics, taught by Mr. Hogan, and Building Grounds and Maintenance, taught by Mr. Stone. One of the Building Grounds and Maintenance projects was to put up the new Pioneer scoreboard, donated by Mr. Andrew S. Hilaire of Bernardston. The entire Occupational Education program has given Pioneer students a better opportunity to prepare themselves for a career.

*Be a good kid.

Ms. Donna Fairfield has expended a lot of time and energy in helping put this book together. There were times that it probably seemed as if this book would never happen. Her willingness to really get involved has carried us through. So as we move along we give our thanks to her for hauling us out of the ruts and over the bumps.

During the past two years Mrs. Bassett has been our class advisor. She has helped us a great deal. Bringing us closer together was a large undertaking. We needed moral support and the promotion of class pride to get us going. Her energy in working for us on our money-raising projects and activities is greatly appreciated. Her determination and patience in helping us accomplish our goals has been invaluable. We want to thank her for standing up for and by us.
